La Palma Celebrates Our Heroes

La Palma Days 2007

On Saturday, November 10th at 10:00 a.m., the La Palma Days Parade and prestigious Band Review will feature over 200 units including junior and senior high school bands, JROTC units, veterans, military entries, celebrities, dignitaries, elected officials, local schools, clubs and organizations, businesses, the Orange County Fire Authority, and others – all parading proudly down Walker Street, from Houston to La Palma Avenue! This year's military grand marshals are Brigadier General John S. Harrel, Commanding General, 40th Infantry Division, Los Alamitos Joint Forces Base and Captain Jonathan D. Kurtz, Commanding Officer, Seal Beach Naval Weapons Station. Our Community Grand Marshall is La Palma resident Meri Fedak, recently named California History Teacher of the Year by the Gilder Lehrman Institute of American History and the White House's Preserve America Initiative.

Once again, the City of La Palma is proud to have the 23rd Annual La Palma Days Parade be designated as the "Official Veteran's Day Parade of Orange County" by proclamation from the Orange County Board of Supervisors.

Band Review

Twenty-six Southern California school bands, representing over 4,000 students from Cypress, Buena Park, Cerritos, Anaheim, and our own John F. Kennedy High School Shamrock

Regiment Band, will compete in one of the most highly respected Band Reviews in the area.

The Band Review begins at 9:30 a.m. on Walker Street, with SCSBOA judging taking place immediately south of Bransford Street. La Palma welcomes all of the schools competing in our spectacular Band Review!

As these many uniformed cadets pass through the reviewing area in front of La Palma Intercommunity Hospital, they will be judged in four competitive categories by our distinguished panel of judges: Color Guard Units, Armed Drill Teams, Unarmed Drill Teams, and Marching Units.

JROTC Competition

Veteran Reviewing Officers: Captain Ivan Ashbaugh, U. S. Navy, Ret.; Lt. Commander, Dave Bradley, U.S. Navy, Ret.; and Major, Craig Holoboski, California State Military Reserve.

Vendors

The La Palma Days Community Festival will feature over 30 vendors from 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. Enjoy a wide variety of tasty cuisine as we "Celebrate Our Heroes" homelands by sampling foods from around the world! At the same time, you will be supporting your local nonprofit organizations as they work toward their goals of providing ongoing services to our community. So bring your appetite, select your favorite foods, and sit down and relax in our covered picnic area.

Take some additional time to browse and shop through our community and commercial booths, featuring various products, services, arts and crafts, and games.

Entertainment

La Palma Days will feature 2 areas of entertainment and things to do for the entire family!
